3. Emily Allchurch: Then Is Now

Then is Now is an introductory show for Hong Kong of UK-based artist Emily Allchurch's works, including her well-known piece Babel London. The exhibition showcases her use of photography and digital collage to reconstruct old-master works in her creation of contemporary narratives and a new fictional space. Allchurch will also spend weeks in Hong Kong this month for a locally based project Babel Hong Kong researching location and gathering photographic material for a specially produced work depicting the essence of the city inspired by traditional Chinese paintings. The project will be on display in March.
